

Water Tank

AS/NZS 4766:2006 ISO 9001:2000 Certification and Compliance

AS/NZS 4766:2006 is an Australian & New Zealand Standard written for polyethylene water tanks to ensure these tanks have been properly designed and manufactured to be fit for their purpose.

Certification

Certification marks as shown above confirm an accredited certifying body has been engaged to check and verify that the manufacturer has met all the stringent conditions required of the Standard. This certification provides the highest level of confidence that the products have been certified by an independent authorised organisation as meeting all the criteria within the Standard. NYLEX Crestmead has SAI Global certification AS/NZS 4766:2006 and ISO 9001:2000 for Quality Endorsement. NYLEX Crestmead operates under the industry's best practice and welcomes prospective and existing customers to visit its manufacturing facility at Crestmead, Brisbane.

Compliance

Not all manufacturers choose to have their products certified. Don't be fooled, compliance alone is NOT certification. Manufacturers who state their products comply, but who do not have certification, have not been independently assessed by a company authorised to undertake Australian Standards testing. Certification provides independent assurance of a manufacturer's claim that products comply with the standard. Tanks certified to AS/NZS 4766:2006 bear an Australian Standard Certified Product mark and have the licence number issued by the certifying third party, permanently displayed on the tank.

If in doubt ask your distributor to see the manufacturer's certification
